

ABSTRACT

This invention relates generally to films having barrier as well as controlled disintegration properties and, more particularly, to controlled water disintegratable films.